Dance Classes

Weekly 1-hour dance classes are led by New Haven Faculty member Kerry Kincy and facilitated by New Haven Ballet advanced-level ballet students. These classes are open to students ages 10+ years with physical disabilities.

Performance

Shared Ability concludes with a performance at the Shubert Theatre New Haven as part of New Haven Ballet's Spring Performance. Dancers with and without disabilities share the stage to present the work they created.

Testimonials

"My daughter who is severely disabled with cerebral palsy and has intellectual disabilities has participated in the dance program for many years. It is something she looks forward to every year. At so many levels it makes a difference in her life. She lives in a protected environment and going to a safe place like dance at New Haven Ballet allows her to get out, meet peers like herself, make friends, move her body and stretch, listen and follow instructions, move and feel music, gain a sense of accomplishment, but most importantly interact with enabled dancers where she and her peers are the focus."
